SECOND DISTRICT POLICE REPORT

Officer David Baker reported that crime is down 22% from October 9 to November 11 but theft from autos is up. He also advised the community that the so-called “cuddler” is still active. On October 17, at a residence near Stoddert school, the “cuddler” entered the house through an unlocked door or window and tried to get under the covers with a woman sleeping on a couch at about 6:48 a.m. When asked who he was, the “cuddler” fled. Officer Baker reminded everyone to lock their doors since most burglaries are the result of unlocked doors.

The problems of traffic management at the Stoddert school during drop off and pick up was raised. Officer Baker said that the Stoddert administration should be contacted and asked to make changes but that he would keep an eye on the situation, particularly with regard to buses that idle nearby. In response to a question about door-to-door solicitors, Officer Baker said that all are required to have and show a permit. He
