Police Report

Presentation of Proposal to Change the Glover Park Liquor License Moratorium including Q&A with Sarah Fashbaugh, Community Resource Officer, DC Alcoholic Beverage Regulation Administration

The moratorium on issuing liquor licenses in Glover Park was established in 1999 to deal with issues of peace, order, quiet, litter and parking caused by establishments licensed to sell alcoholic beverages, and to help maintain a balance of goods and services in the Glover Park commercial district. It has worked well over the years and at recent renewal periods, such as this one, the ANC has gradually recommended lifting of restrictions against issuing certain kinds of liquor licenses. The current moratorium, which expires next February, prohibits issuing new licenses for only two categories, taverns and nightclubs, and caps the number of restaurant licenses at 14. The ANC is proposing to remove from the moratorium all restrictions on the number of restaurant licenses, but to continue the moratorium on licensing new taverns and nightclubs. The ANC will vote on this proposal at its November 12 public meeting and present its recommendations to ABRA at a hearing in January. We will be taking comments at this October meeting and until November 12 at info@anc3b.org
